Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Fifteen thousand words! That's as many words as a small novel contains. That is the number of words in the $30 Thursday pension plan that voters must approve or disapprove on November 7, a little more than two months from now. Now, how many voters are going to read a 15,000 word legal document? Not one in one hundred if other elections may be used as a criterion. How many people even take the trouble to read their insurance policies? To ask voters of California to read this document through is like praying for rain in the middle of the Sahara.

So if voters won't or don't read this formidable document, they are bound to take somebody's word for what's in it. Barring wishful thinkers (who are not really thinkers) the other voters will either take the word of U. S. Webb, for more than a generation Attorney General of California, or they will take the word of the two promoters of this proposed act, one of whom will, when and if the initiative bill becomes law, become California's first dictator with $700,000 taken out of the state treasury, to play with immediately.

Of course, these two unscrupulous promoters of this quick panacea for all our ills, will never tell the whole truth about the fantastic scheme, but one thing is very certain, merchants who want to stay in business, and banks which desire to remain solvent, will not touch this bogus money. If the plan could work, it would destroy all business in California, for it imposes a gross sales tax of 104 percent.

The misrepresentation involved, under which elderly folks are besought and bedeviled through the mails to send in their dimes and nickels as dues, we believe merits the investigation of postoffice authorities. If this is not using the mails to defraud, we would like to be assured of the fact by a Federal court. Some such action is needed to open the eyes of the tens of thousands of wishful thinkers who are supporting this plan.

A resume of the plan recently issued states that the so-called warrants at the time of issue, have no value whatever. "In fact, it is worth exactly 4 cents less than nothing. It can become worth a dollar in only one way—and that is by acquiring $1.04 worth of redemption stamps. These, of course, must be purchased with cash. Then, and only then, can it be exchanged for a dollar in real money. Until that time it is just another piece of paper. Burdened with these characteristics, the retirement compensation warrant, therefore is compelled to go out into the business world and compete with real money. In order to do this successfully it must be just as acceptable to the merchant, to the manufacturer, to the workingman, and to the farmer as the silver dollar.

"What about the proposed bank? Will it endow the warrants with new value and enable them to circulate on the same basis as real money? Before answering these questions, let us examine this bank.

It is to be known as the Credit Clearings Bank of the People of California, and has an authorized capital of $50,000,000. Par value of the stock is $10 and it is to be sold at $12,50 a share, the difference going into surplus.

It should be clearly understood that this bank, although created by teh amendment, is NOT a State-owned bank. It is simply another privately owned institution whose stock is held in just the same way as that of all other banks.

"In order to get the bank started, the Administrator is authorized to plunge the State $20,000,000 in debt. This is to be done through a bond issue which is to be redeemed out of the sale of the capital stock and the net earnings of the bank. This redemption, according to the amendment, "is hereby guaranteed by the general credit of the State of California."

"The amendment gives the self-onminated Administrator absolute control of the bank by naming him and his three assistants as majority members of a seven-man Board of Directors. The other three

The fire which started south of North San Juan Wednesday burned over about 500 acres of brush and grass land before being brought under control by state fire fighters and CCC enrollees Wednesday night. A sudden change in the wind saved the town of North San Juan and again at Sweetland the wind veered so that fire fighters were able to get control and save the town.

State crews were called from Nevada and Yuba counties, CCC boys from Pine Grove CCC camp, Amador county and Camp Forbes CCC, Placer county. The wind blew from 25 to 30 miles per hour, helping to carry the fire at a rapid rate. State crews were called to a fire in the Lime Kiln district which covered 100 acres Wednesday. It burned over grass and brush land. This makes the 22nd fire for that district this season.

A fire in timber near the Murchie mine Sunday called state men to the scene and they had it under control after it had burned through about a half acre of standing timber.

Old mine timbers and carbide cans in the Empire mine dump near Grass Valley caught fire and spread to the timber, burning about a half acre before being extinguished.

A mine crew played water on the dump about 36 hours and finally the state crews were called.

The state division of forestry has had 83 fires so far this season which have burned over 7,400 acres.

This is according to figures compiled by Dean Wyman E. Olson Tuesday nght on the basis of registrations before classes had commenced.

Eighteen counties were represented in the registration. 147 students came from points outside of the Placer Union High School District, and eleven states are represented in the registration.

In addition to Placer, the following counties have students at the college: Nevada, Plumas, Sierra, El Dorado, Solano, San Luis Obispo, Butte, Yolo, Shasta, Siskiyou, Tulare, Marin, Los Angeles, Yuba, Sacramento, San Joaquin and Alameda.

Roseville leads nearby communities in number of students registered with 31, followed by Placerville with 26, Grass Valley 24, Nevada City 19 and Lincoln 11.

Bus service to Lincoln was commenced Tuesday afternoon on the basis of the registration that day.

GREAT REGISTER PURGED OF 1284 NEV. CO. VOTERS

One thousand two hundred eighty-four residents of Nevada County have suffered cancellation of their voting registrations because of failure to vote in either the primary election or general election of 1938, according to County Clerk R. N. MacCormack.

In 1938 the great register for Nevada County showed a registration of 11,107. Today there are only 8,999. Besides failure to vote, registrations are cancelled by removal of the resident from the county or even from one precinct to another, by death, by conviction of a crime, by commitment to mental hospital, or by change of name other than by marriage.

Warning all citizens that the last date for registration is September 28, County Clerk McCormack announces that his office would be open through that date for all who wished to register, and that some 15 deputies had been placed about the county for the convenience of those who might not be able to call at the county court house.

MOTORISTS RUN DOWN AND KILL PHEASANTS

Motorists traveling between Nevada City and Grass Valley have killed four pheasants near Town Talk recently and Game Warden Earl Hiscox has issued a warning to persons driving cars to drive more carefully. The beautiful birds can be seen at almost any time of day along the roads.

Errol MacBoyle, general manager of the Idaho-Maryland mines, has a preserve near his home on the Loma Rica ranch. This year he did not raise so many pheasants but went in more for Chucker partridges and valley quail. The birds are sent out from the state game farm and Mr. MacBoyle cares for these birds in his brooding pens until they are ready to be released on the preserves. There is one refuge on his property and another along the McCourtney road. It was found pheasants travel to the valley while partridges and quail remain in the mountains.

FOREST SERVICE ALLOTS $176,000 TO SCHOOL FUND

The U. S. Forest Service is apportioning $176,030 for public school and road funds of forested counties in the California Region, E. V. Lackey, regional fiscal agent, announced at San Francisco headquarters.

An additional $70,410 taken from annual receipts will be expended by the Forest Service to construct and maintain roads and trails in counties containing national forest lands. Remaining receipts from national forest revenues are being turned over to the general fund of the national treasury in Washington, D. C.

These apportionments to counties, Fiscal Agent Lackey pointed out, represent 25 per cent and 10 per cent respectively of the $704,115 collected by the Forest Service in the California Region during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939. Income from the sale of timber, grazing leases and miscellaneous special uses in the 18 national forests this year shows an increase of $82,375 over the receipts of last fiscal year.

Six counties of southwestern Nevada, and Jackson County, Oregon, which have areas in the California national forests are sharing in the apportionment. Payments will be made by the U. S. Treasury to the three states which in turn will forward the funds to county treasurers.

Sales of national forest timber and wood products netted $347,125, grazing privileges brought a return of $148,243 and miscellaneous receipts totaled $208,838.

Best incomes reported this year were from the Plumas, Lassen, Modoc, Sierra and San Bernardino National Forests. The Angeles and San Bernardino National Forests continued to lead in receipts from recreational special uses with the El Dorado forest closely following.

The Modoc and Sequoia National Forest showed the highest grazing receipts, while the Plumas Forest was the leader in timber sales with Lassen and Modoc Forests following.

Although lands within national forests are not taxable, the allotments for school and road funds, together with fire protection activities, recreational improvements, grazing, fish and game management, flood control projects and other measures are pointed to as federal benefits in lieu of taxes.

WOMAN BEATER TO SPEND 120 DAYS IN JAIL

Judge W. L. Mobley heard the case of Powers and Thomas yesterday forenoon. He found George Thomas guilty of beating Mrs. Mary Powers and was sentenced to 120 days in the county jail. He was taken immediately to the county jail to start serving time.

About a month ago Chief of Police Garfield Robson arrested Thomas for beating Mrs. Powers in her home on Depot street in this city. Mrs. Powers is an invalid and the injuries sustained in the beating laid her up for some time. Thomas has resided in this section for several months.

CEMENT POURING ON NARROWS DAM TO BEGIN IN OCT.

Pouring of concrete on the big Narrows Dam project will start October 10, according to L. E. Dixon, contractor, who reports that excavation on the job is virtually completed, and preparations are now underway to start cement pouring.

Two big steam shovels are working in the river bed, taking out huge boulders and getting the foundation down to solid bedrock. Operators report that fish are frequently brought up with the debris, but they are suckers and whitefish, which are of no commercial or sporting value.

A large gravel and sand grading and washing plant has been constructed just below the Parks Bar bridge on the south side of the river where material for the cement will be obtained. Ten trucks, each to haul 10 yards of material at a load, will carry sand and gravel night and day the 4 1-2 miles to the ore bins at the damsite.

Bins have been built above the top level of the dam at the Narrows, and a cement mixing plant has been installed. Cement ready for pouring will be moved over cables between two towers and dumped into the forms. A three inch cable, used on the tramway, weighs 42,000 pounds, and will easily bear the weight of the huge cement laden buckets.

The cement job will be the largest ever undertaken in this vicinity.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR W. Z. MORTON

Funeral services were held yesterday morning for the late Wilbur Z. Morton, aged 76 years, who passed away in the county hospital Saturday evening. Rev. David Ralston conducted services in the Holmes chapel and interment was made in Pine Grove cemetery.

NEVADA COUNTY EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Mayor John R. Thomas of Grass Valley and W. W. Esterley of Grass Valley have taken an exhibit of Nevada County minerals and fruits to be placed in the county booth at the State Fair. The state fair opens today and will last until Sunday, September 10.

The two men have made a collection of ore from mines of the county and have obtained a splendid display of apples and pears produced in the district. Mayor Thomas and Esterly will remain at the fair until September 10.

WAR VETERAN TO ENTER HOSPITAL AT FORT MILEY

Banner Mt. Post, V. F. W. service officer made arrangements yesterday for the removal of Alfred R. McLaughlin, ex-war veteran, from the county hospital to Fort Miley at San Francisco. Holmes' amublance service took the man to Colfax. McLaughlin was injured in an auto accident near Truckee and brought to the county hospital on Tuesday. The service officer contacted the man and found he was an ex-service man.

McLaughlin's ex-service papers showed the man had enlisted three times in the services of the United States military forces and holds three honorable discharges. He was in Co. L, corporal in Company D, 30th Infantry during the World War. McLaughlin was wounded July 17, 1918 in France. He re-enlisted into Co. D as a corporal and was discharged honorably then enlisted again in Co. D as a private receiving his discharge December 8, 1931.

The injured man has a brother in Glendale who is captain of the city fire department.

OUT DOOR CLUB

The Western Out Door Club will hold a convention at the Sierra Club house near Norden over the coming week end and Labor Day. Supervisor DeWitt Nelson and Leland Smith, of the Tahoe National Forest headquarters will attend the meeting. The two officials will attend in the interests of the recreational department.

Recreation Program At Park Is Success

The Co-ordinating Council of Nevada City yesterday made its first annual report. This includes the reports of all those who helped in the big project. The Co-ordinating Council was composed of representatives of Nevada City fraternal and civic organizations, headed by Mrs. E. T. Bonner. Individuals and organizations provided a fund of $250 for the season's activities. This sum was matched by the city council. The purpose of the Co-ordinating Council was to provide healthful recreation, games and sports, centered mainly in Pioneers Park, and thereby to call a halt in the mounting record of juvenile delinquency. Members of the council believe that this project met with a large measure of success, for a check-up revealed the fact that many youngsters who have been placed under the guidance of the probation officer were also registered at the park playground.

Del Henrich, employed to take general charge of the playground activities, reports that daily attendance at Pioneers Park was 72, and that total attendance for the seven weeks period was 2,960.

The most popular games were box hockey, bag punching, ping pong, baseball, bingo, basketball, checkers, volleyball, badminton, horseshoes, peggity, card games, puzzles, peanut league, three flies inner, dodge ball, minute men, and Chinese checkers.

Other activities that proved popular were dancing, treasure hunt, the overnight hikes, airplane modeling, tumbling, boxing, dramatics and, for the little tads, the sand box. A triangular emblem was awarded to 100 point winners.

The dances sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club, under the direction of Mrs. H. A. Jackson, were an extremely popular feature among youngsters in their teens. A ten cent admission charge provided refreshments and dances were so well conducted that the parents of the children frequently expressed their appreciation of the club's direction and sponsorship.

Another popular activity was twilight softball in which six ten men teams were entered, to form a league. Officers of the league were Fred Garrison, Jr., chairman, Miles D. Coughlin, George Phillips, Frank Martin, Hobart Childers, Earl Halterman, Roman Rozynski, Frank Kereze and William James. Teams consisted of Grass Valley Hardware, Grass Valley Nuggets, Nevada City Antlers, Odd Fellows, Pepsi Cola, All Stars, Nevada City Fireman, Native Sons, Moonshiners.

Cooking classes for both boys and girls were under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Robinson. Seven lessons were given at a total cost of $12. The teachers recommend that before another season opens the kitchen in Seaman's lodge be equipped with a stove and a sink. The teachers were obliged to bring with them all utensils and materials during the season just closed.

Handicraft lessons given under the direction of Mrs. D. E. Bonebreak included the making of block prints and plaster wall plaques. Attendance at her classes ranged from 12 to 25 at her classes. Several block prints and wall plaques were exhibited in the Nugget window, 305 Broad street during the season.

Mrs. Mabel Flindt had charge of the story telling hour and nature study classes. Attendance for the stories was around 22 and for the nature studies, which included the study of birds nests and silk worms, those enrolling numbered as many as 23.

Mrs. Flindt's recommendation follows: "If this recreational program is continued next summer, I would suggest that a list of the children who have been in difficulties with the school or other authorities, be placed in the hands of the officers in charge of the summer program. "Big brothers" and "big sisters" could be appointed for these children to see that they were urged to attend. If they were encouraged to come, something in the recreational program might interest them, and that one activity might open a better line of thought and result in a needed change in their development. The cost of a recreational program can easily be far less than the cost of court proceedings and reform school care."

SIERRAVILLE FIRE BESTED BY 140 CCC ENROLLEES

The Dog Valley fire near Sierraville which started Tuesday is practically under control after a sudden flareup on Wednesday afternoon. About 140 men were on the fire lines. The forest service called in crews of CCC enrollees from Boca and Rubicon camps. The battle was in charge of Sam Dickey assistant to Ranger Pete Land, who was in the Lassen National forest on a large fire. Ranger Delaney and Ranger H. I. Snider of Truckee and Fire Chief E. M. Baxter from the local headquarters, have been on the Dog Valley fire lines acting in an advisory capacity to Mr. Dickey. Two bull dozers did splendid service along fire lines in this fire which covered about 100 acres. Fire fighters were hampered by a strong wind.

Airplanes are being pressed into use again to return men from fire fighting lines in other sections. The crop dusting plane of Ray Nolta of Willows, brought Ranger Pete Land, Cozzalio and Cal Joy down from the Mt. Shasta fire yesterday. These men were landed at Truckee at nine o'clock in the forenoon.

Ranger Pete Land and E. L. Baxter, fire chief, flew over the Dog Valley fire lines yesterday forenoon. During the afternoon the Nolta plane was used to fly Mr. Baxter and E. M. Stone, fire dispatcher, over the fire lines near North San Juan.

ROTARY SINGS UNDER BATON OF MRS. LIBBEY

Clyde Gwin, president of the Nevada City Rotary club, yesterday submitted his report of the Rotary assembly at Colusa. Following his report and during the luncheon, Mrs. Carl Libbey led the singing and put the Rotarians on their metal to equal at least her choral classes in the elementary school. She induced them to sing rendeleys and choruses with much vigor, whatever may be said of their harmony.

HUNTERS OUT TODAY FOR DOVE

Captain A. H. Willard of the Fish and Game Commission states due to the hot weather doves are more plentiful in the higher mountains. If the present cool spell remains for a time dove hunting should be good in lower sections. Dove hunting is done from 7 in the morning until sundown, and 15 per day is the limit. The season opens today and many local sportsmen are out hunting this morning.

ORO FLAME MINE

Ned Pond is in charge of the operations at the Oro Flame mine near Alleghany. All new buildings which include a bunk house, cook house and blacksmith shop have been completed. Electricity is being brought to the mine and development has started. San Francisco interests have the lease on the prpperty which is owned by J. J. Connell of Allleghany.

A Reminder

In celebrating its Tercentenary this year, Newport, R. I., commemorates the completion of three centuries of religious freedom—marking the date when stout-hearted followers of Roger Williams seeking the right to worship as they pleased settled in Rhode Island and founded the city of Newport.

As part of the celebration, a special ceremony was recently held in which a descendant of George Washington read the classic address on religious liberty delivered by his illustrious forefather at Newport in 1790.

"All citizens possess alike liberty of conscience and immunities of citizenship," said the first Presdent on that occasion. "It is now no more that toleration is spoken of as if it was by the indulgence of one class of people that another enjoyed the exercise of their inherent natural rights. For happily the Government of the United States which gives to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance, requires only that they who live under its protection should demean themselves as good citizens."

The spirit of these utterances has guided us for 150 years and has been one of the basic principles of our national life. For a century and a half we have maintained a free life here based upon a system of free enterprise. political freedom and religious and civil liberty. As long as we maintain in the United States a free economic and political system, we need not fear the loss of the third freedom—religious and civil liberty. We need not fear the encroachment and effects of the European "isms" which preach hatred and intolerance of one class for another, one race against another.—Contributed.

A Revolutionary

(From the San Bruno Union)

The Constitution of the United States was promulgated and has been accepted for 150 years as the Supreme Law of the Land. The Supreme Court of the United States, set up by the Constitution, is the final authority on all issues in which a constitutional question is involved.

It is the Constitution, as interpreted by the appellate courts, which safeguards the liberty and freedom of the people.

To deny to the humblest citizen the protection of the courts is to take away his liberty and make him subject to the whims of executives ,bureaucrats and would-be dictators.

Therefore, perhaps, the most alarming and astounding provision in the so-called Retirement Life Payments Act (the Ham and Eggs Amendment) is Section 37, which reads as follows:

"Section 37. No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall ever issue to interfere with the administration of this article or to prevent or enjoin any provision of this article from going into effect."

The proposed constitutional amendment sets up a super state government, under the control of a virtual dictator which it seeks to perpetuate by attempting to close the courts to citizens who may be injured by its drastic provisions, or who may wish to test its constitutionality.

Stalin never thought of aynthing worse than that.

are designated as the State Controller and the Controllers of the two most populous counties according to the last census, which would be Los Angeles and San Francisco counties. Here occurs one of the many errors that are to be found in the amendment — a document shot through with inconsistent and conflicting provisions. There is no such office as Controller in Los Angeles county. Hence, not even a minority representation on the Board for this great area.

"The Administrator automatically becomes Chairman of the Board and his Chief Deputy, whom he appoints, the President.

"The amendment provides that branches of the Credit Clearings Bank shall be established within 1000 feet of all now existing banks and branches. In the congested areas, more elastic arrangements are permitted."

"Promoters of this plan smugly declare that this bank is to be created as the result of the announcement made last year by California banks that they could not accept the warrants. To the general public, and particularly that section of it represented by the followers of this plan acceptance of the warrants by banks meant the exchange or warrants for cash. And today in the minds of the rank and file of the pension movement, the Credit Clearings Bank can do exactly this. Let us see if this is true.

Accounts in the Credit Clearings Bank MUST be kept in two separate and distinct divisions; one for "lawful money and lawful money claims" and the other for "retirement compensation warrants and—or checks, receipts and other forms of claims for such warrants. There can be no possible comingling of deposits. The amendment clearly insists that the warrants accounts shall be 'SEPARATE AND APART" from the deposits of cash, notes and the other usual forms of deposit."

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder why the zebra's stripes
Cannot be slightly changed,
And why spots upon the leopard's hide
Be differently arranged;
The Russian bear has made his fur
So sweetly clean and white
That folk of purest Nordic blood
Now Heil him with delight.

I wonder at the amazing wonders of the world about us; Once, in the very long ago, a noted writer reported the utter paucity of new things under the sun; if he were to return at this time and stay long enough to look around, he might change his mind.

He would see a strange, mechanized world, the like of which was never so much as dreamed of by him or his contemporaries. He would observe the almost unbelievable strides made, since his time by science, literature and art. He would gape amazed before the achievements of modern medicine and rejoice in its conquests of human suffering and despair. He would stare wide eyed at our sky scrapers and at the comforts and conveniences of our modern homes and then mutter in his beard: "I must have been mistaken when I wrote that immortal line of mine."

I wonder if he would wonder to see a world which might be peacefully going about its many unfinished tasks of human betterment, turning to the insanity of war. What would he think of a great nation allowing itself to become infected with the egomanical tendencie of one man? What would he think of an entire continent hanging breathlessly upon that one man's word? No doubt he would take a long look at the world of today, shake his bewildered head and sadly return to that bourne which has been his abode for many centuries.

I wonder at the greed inspired games now being played. with human destiny as the pawn; but still amid the troubled moments through which we are passing, some gleams of humor shine to ease the tension and reveal more clearly the uncertainty of contracts entered into under duress of what we call power politics.

For instance: Herr Hitler plays a game of crack the whip, whereat Japan flies off at a tangent to land wrong side up under the sharp claws of her ancient enemy, the bear that walks like a man. We can't help smiling at this little upset, and then sit us down to ponder the benefits which we enjoy in a land of liberty.

Uncle Silas says: "I dreamed that Ham and Eggs had become a law and I had just been handed my first bundle of so-called money, when along comes a seedy individual and says to me, 'say bo, can you spare a bit of paper'?"

SIMPLER LEGAL PROCEDURE GOAL OF STATE BAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Vigorous efforts to modernize and simplify legal procedure will be made next week by leading California attorneys at the annual State Bar convention at Del Monte, according to Secretary Claude Minard.

The four day conclave, to be held September 6-9, will consider and act upon thirty two committee reports including such subjects as improved methods of jury selection, appeals from administrative boards and bureaus and elimination of abuses in the settlement of personal injury claims.

A definite move to streamline California legal procedure is included in a resolution submitted by Judge Fred H. Taft of Santa Monica. Citing the vast improvement brought about by the recently adopted new federal rules, Judge Taft's resolution urges enactment of legislation to strip California procedure of numerous technical proceedings which often result in needless delays.

Other proposed procedure changes to be urged include the adoption of uniform state laws, creation of an accident commission to hear all personal injury claims and revision of the appellate court rules to provide for oral arguments and the judicial conference system in the preparation of decision, Minard pointed out.

The bar's Juvenile Crime Prevention Committee is scheduled to present a comprehensive report of its activities the past year and outline its plans to send young attorneys to public schools to address students on the dangers involved in violations of state laws. The committee plans to bring its educational work before more than 300,000 students the coming year, according to the report of Harold H. Krowech, committee chairman.

On September 5, just preceding the convention, the State Bar Board of Governors will be the guests of the Monterey County Bar Association in a luncheon meeting.

SHOULD MORE MEN TEACH IN OUR SCHOOLS?

This information service on education is brought to you by special arrangement with Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City. Questions on education may be submitted through this newspaper.

QUESTION: Should more men teach school?

REPLY: In 1936 20.6 per cent of all teachers in public elementary and secondary schools were men. Many educators feel that this proportion should be greater not because men are necessarily better teachers than women but because it is felt that school children should be exposed to a more balanced and normal school environment and not develop solely under the influence of women.

This implies, of course m,en teachers at least equal to women in ability and who look upon teaching not as a stopgap but as a lifetime profession. Present day teaching is rapidly becoming a highly specialized profession requiring men and women of high calibre and offering considerable opportunities of service. The trend towards higher salaries and better tenure and retirement laws has been largely in order to make teaching more attractive to men and women of this type.

QUESTION: What is the extent of Federal aid for vocational education in high schools, trade schools and the like? Is this growing or diminishing?

REPLY: For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1938 the Federal government allotted grants of $21,775,977 for vocational education below college grade. Of this some $7,126,000 was in the field of agriculture, $11,237,000 for training in trade, industry and home economics, $1,254,000 for training in the distributive occupations, and $2,422,000 for training of teachers in vocational subjects.

Because the George-Dean Act of 1936 went into effect for the first time in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1938, these figures represent a great increase over previous years. In 1937 the total of Federal money allotted to states and territories for vocational education was $8,962,852; in 1936 it was $8,721,474.

These funds are granted to states and must be matched by state or local money.

LETTERS FROM EUROPE MAKES SPEED RECORD

H. P. Davis, author and mine engineer ,received a letter from his wife who has been visiting her daughter for several months in Amsterdam, Holland, on Tuesday, August 29. Mrs. Davis is sailing for home on September 9. The letter made one of the best speed records for covering such a great distance almost ever recorded. It left Amsterdam on August 25 and went to Paris. From Paris it was picked up by the American Clipper August 27 and arrived in Nevada City on the 29th.

ALLEGED DRUNKEN DRIVER IS IN JAIL

Jerry Genreau, 32, of Grass Valley was locked in the Nevada County jail in Nevada City yesterday afternoon on a drunken driving charge. He drove Kitty Edwards, 42, in her machine out on the Colfax highway Wednesday evening to visit friends, it is claimed. When returning home near the Happy Hour resort the car evidently left the road and struck a tree with such force as to severely injure the woman. She was moved to Jones Memorial hospital where she still remains. Genreau was also taken to Jones Memorial hospital for treatment before being removed to the county jail. Traffic officers made an investigation of the accident. The automobile was badly damaged.

Ted LeMaire of the Three Kings mine, was a business visitor in Nevada City Wednesday. A recent rich strike in the mine has been profitable and development continues.

FARMERS WANT CIVIL LIBERTIES PROTECTED ALSO

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

California farmers, who met attempts of radical organizers and city labor bosses to usurp control of California's channels of production by organizing in their own defense, are soon to be investigated by the LaFollette civil liberties committee, accordng to news dispatches from the national capital.

With $50,000 in additional federal funds placed at its disposal, the LaFollette committee plans to dig into the activities and records of the Associated Farmers of California—for the asserted purpose of determining whether the organization infringed on civil liberties.

This writer is neither an officer nor a member of the Associated Farmers and has no intention of presenting a brief for the organization. That responsibility must rest with its own officers and membership.

But as the executive secretary of the Agricultural Council of California, which is composed of the state's major farm cooperatives, with more than 70,000 farmer members, the writer of this column does have a vital interest in any inquiry bearing on California's critical and complicated farm labor problem.

It is not a one-sided problem and it is to be hoped that the investigation about to be begun will not be a one-sided investigation.

Unfortunately, the very definitely colored and one-sided news reports which emanated from Washington some months ago after the LaFollette investigators had made their preliminary inquiry have undoubtedly caused a large percentage of California farmers to question the impartiality and fairness of the investigating committee.

In all frankness, the average California farmer today—as a result of the publication of grave charges against the Associated Farmers and the farming industry in California, without either the Associated Farmers or the industry as a whole being granted any opportunity to disprove the charges—is probably of the opinion that the LaFollette committee is a pro-labor committee, prepared to pre-judge the case,

California farmers may be entirely wrong in that assumption. It is to be hoped that they are. For we have had enough of class hatred and class warfare in California—and it is high time that men in positions of high responsibility should use their influence to bring peace on the labor front and to insist on fairness for everyone concerned in labor disputes.

This writer assumes that the LaFollette committee will crack down on attempts of labor leaders to rule with an iron hand and to violate the civil liberties of farmers—with the same vigor that it will proceed against any violation of civil liberties by farmers or other employers.

And if the committee follows that policy from the start of its investigation—demonstrating that it wants both sides of the story and that it recognizes that farmers have just as much right to expect protection of their farms and their crops as labor leaders have to demand decent working conditions and fair wage scales—the committee will quickly win the confidence and the wholehearted cooperation of California agriculture.

The Associated Farmers of California, in a recent statement, threw down the gauntlet with the declaraton:

"We demand that the defense of civil liberties include the civil liberties and rights of the farmers, merchants, employes and every member of the community alike."

They have a right to make that demand—for that demand is rooted in the principles of a democracy. When farm trucks are over turned on their way to market; when strikes are called at peak harvest seasons and crops rot in the fields; when labor leaders demand wage increases that farmers can't pay without being plunged into bankruptcy; when goon squads are sent into farming areas by city labor czars to intimidate and terrorize—then the LaFollette committee might well do something to protect the liberties and the rights of farmers and the general public. And if it does so, California farmers are willing to stand any investigation it may order.

Paul Phariss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phariss, will leave about September 4 for San Francisco where he will join the United States navy.

Miss Dorothy Feagans, of Reno, will motor to this city today and return with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geary Feagans, who will enjoy a tour of old mining towns in Nevada state over the week end.

FORMER NEVADA COUNTY PEOPLE REUNION SEPT. 17

The twenty fourth annual re-union of former Nevada county residents now living in the San Francisco bay region will be held at Mosswood Park in Oakland on Sunday, September 17, according to plans made at a meeting last week of officers and directors of the Reunion Association.

According to a report made at the meeting, many present residents of Nevada county, as well as former Nevada countyans living in all parts of Northern California, plan to make a weekend trip to the bay region, attending the Golden Gate International Exposition on Saturday and the reunion on Sunday. Thus plans are being made for a record crowd at the reunion.

The program committee promises some enjoyable entertainment and fruit from Nevada county will be distributed to those attending the affair, in line with the usual custom.

The 1939 officers of the Nevada County Reunion Association are Russell F. Whiting, president; Norman W. Shaw, vice president; Chris B. Fox, secretary, and W. T. Jenkins, treasurer. Members of the executive committee are: Fred W. Compton, David N. Morgan, Harold Trewhella, Bob Warren, Edgar E. Muller, William Thomas, Mrs. Fernand H. Dorsaz, Mrs. Annie Haynie, Mrs. Gertrude Carson, Mrs. Vesta Maher and Fred Arbogast.

Mrs. Leland Smith, daughter, Miss Betty Smith, sons, Leland and Warren, will join Mrs. Smith's sister, Miss Avis Caldwell in Sacramento and go to Alturas for the week end and Labor Day holiday. Mrs. Smith and Miss Caldwell will visit their mother and other relatives.

'An Air Gun With A Peep Sight? Sure, Sonny!'

"Come back about 3 o'clock this afternoon and I'll have 'er for you!"

Imagine an eager-eyed laddie with his saved up wealth of nickles and dimes breathlessly stating his wants—

"An air gun—repeater—with peep sights please!"

And the store owner saying, "Sorry, sonny but we're all out—how about a pump gun?" And then, at the disappointment dulling those eager young eyes the storekeeper skipped back a good many years to a day when he might have been this very customer . . . and the happy thought came to him. "Wait a minute, sonny," he glanced at the clock—"Come back about 3 o'clock this afternoon and I'll have that air gun with the peep sights waiting for you!"

In just that one little transaction the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad is proud that its new service made a little boy happy.

For that air gun was delivered as the storekeeper promised—he called Sacramento before 11 in the morning and it was shipped via Narrow Gauge motor freight to arrive in typical railroad fashion—on the dot—at 2 in the afternoon! The Narrow Gauge store-door delivery saw to it that the merchandise wes delivered . . . "before 3!"

Avail yourself of this new service—your merchant will be glad to render it—your railroad will be glad to "deliver the goods."

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

DOINGS OF THE POST

Can you climb a greased pole, catch a greased pig? It all happens at North San Juan, September 16.

Comrade Bert A. Wilmerton, now residing at San Francisco, attended the meeting Wednesday night.

Comrade Kennedy reports that his son is doing nicely at the hospital and will be home soon.

Have you made your date for the big dance at North San Juan, Saturday night, September 16? There will be good music, eats and entertainment. Be sure and get your chances on the portable radio—ask any comrade for tickets — some lucky winner will get it September 16. Drawing to be held at the dance.

The British Victoria Cross was instituted by royal warrant, January 29, 1856, and bestowed for 'conspicious bravery or devotion." They are made of metal from guns captured in the Crimean war. The Cross carries with it a special pension of $50 a year, and each additional clasp an additional $25 a year.

VETERAN REHABILITATION

There is an old adage that a man seldom worries over his health when he is well, but once he becomes ill, he considers his ailment the most grevious problem before him. Today the United States is doing for her veterans something that has never before been done by any government, but like other benefits, this privilege is under fire of those who would slash the cost of the Veterans' Administration.

The annual cost of medical care in this country is estimated at three and three quarter billion dollars. Still, it is the right of any veteran to receive complete hospitalization free when he cannot meet the cost of private treatment. This right eixsts regardless of whether the disability is of war origin or has developed since the Armistice. Today the overwhelming majority of the men in veterans' hospitals are receiving treatment for non-service connected ailments and as time goes on this percentage is sure to increase.

WIDOW AND ORPHAN PENSIONS

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States firmly favors adequate pensions for the widows and dependents of World War veterans. In the past this government has always recognized its responsibility for the care and welfare of the widows and dependents of its veterans of previous wars. The widow of the average World War veteran has reached the age that makes self-support difficult and frequently impossible. The V. F. W. demands that the aged parents of World War veterans and the widows and orphans, be rescued from charitable institutions, and from relief rolls, through the adoption of a federal pension policy, in accordance with established government pension policies. The dependents of America's deceased veterans deserve the economic security pensions will guarantee if patriotism and loyalty to American traditions are to survive.

The office of the chief of the army ordinance states that a standard light tank, weighing approximately 22,000 pounds, can knock down trees as large as 8 inches in diameter. The performance of the tank is, of course dependent upon the type of soil, which will effect both the tractive effort of the tank and the rooting of the tree.

"MILLION DOLLAR LEGS" AT NEVADA THEATRE SUNDAY

"Million Dollar Legs" Paramount's hilarious comedy of college life, coming next Sunday to the Nevada Theatre, features a roster of brilliant new talent, among them being Betty Grable, Jackie Coogan, Joyce Mathews, Donald O'Connor, Larry Crabbe and John Hartley.

Though they have been in pictures only a short time, each of the group has "clicked" with fans. Betty Grable got her first big part in "College Swing" after Paramount executives noticed her accomplished dancing in "Thrill of a Lifetime."

Jackie Coogan, world famous as "The Kid," blasted a Hollywood superstition that child stars never make good as actors in their adult years. He re-established hs reputation in "Home on the Range," and in "College Swing." "Million Dollar Legs" is the second picture in which Betty and Jackie appear together.

CHILDISH WONDER

I cannot read "The Grapes of Wrath,"
It makes me want to take a bath.
And that is most unusual.

Yet every cultured person hath
The highest praise for it in Gath
And Washington, and proves by math,
That it has reached the topmost rath.
Of novels which amuse you all.

I cannot read "The Grapes of Wrath,"
It makes me want to take a bath.
—Chicago Daily Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Buffington and son, Will Jr., returned Saturday from a delightful vacation in San Francisco and along the Redwood highway. Mr. Buffington is a baseball enthusiast and first attended the baseball game in Woodland between the Grass Valley and Woodland teams. They motored to Sacramento and embarked on the Delta King to San Francisco. They motored to Klamath. Buffington found it too early for steel head trout but salmon were running and they enjoyed a short stay, returning to Sacramento to witness a double header baseball game and then home.
